Rooftop climber cleared

A MAN arrested following a rooftop siege has been cleared of aggravated burglary and illegal possession of a knife.

Charlie Wright, 24, was said to have caused several hundred pounds damage to the roofs of seven properties in Primrose Hill, Haverhill, while police watched for 90 minutes.

He was cleared after a two-day trial at Ipswich Crown Court after he denied the charges.

Wright, of Exeter Court, Haverhill, climbed onto the roof after an argument with Swarmy Koomar, who runs the Primrose Mini Market, on the evening of October 21, the court heard.

He refused to come down and knocked off tiles while a police helicopter monitored the scene.

Azza Brown, prosecuting, said the incident had been triggered almost three hours earlier when Mr Koomar refused to serve Wright with a bottle of cola because he was drunk.

BY JOHN GOODE

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

Jurors were shown CCTV footage which they were told showed Wright walking out of the shop carrying a bottle after arguing with Mr Koomar.

After the rooftop incident, police found a boning knife in a wash basin in Mr Koomar's flat above the shop. The jury was told it had been Wright's intention to harm Mr Koomar when he broke into the flat.

But Wright denied having the knife and denied that he wanted to hurt Mr Koomar. He alleged Mr Koomar had assaulted him.

Wright told police he had been drunk at the time, having spent much of the day drinking lager, wine and alcopops in pubs and friends' homes around Haverhill.

He told police there were often gaps in his memory when he had been drinking.

He told officers: "The next thing I knew I was climbing up someone's house and I was on the roof."

Wright was due to appear in court today for sentence on other charges, including damaging property, affray and breaching an anti-social behaviour order.

Egg-cellent Easter idea

A NURSERY in Haverhill has hatched a novel plan to get children interested in nature this Easter.

Dizzy's Day Nursery has been incubating 10 eggs, and they are expected to hatch by the end of the week.

Pupils will then help to give the chicks food and water, and will next week be able to handle the new arrivals for the first time.

Naomi Bailey, administrator at the Hollands Road nursery, said: "At the end of the two weeks we can decide whether we want to keep the chickens, or will send them back to the free range farm to meet up with all their former egg friends."

"It's a great learning experience for the children - they can see how the eggs develop into chickens for themselves and learn how to look after them, as well as be taught about the science behind it."

"They have been very excited about the project."

Praise for nursery in new home

A NURSERY has received praise from Ofsted inspectors despite having struggled to find a new home.

With barely enough time for the paint to dry after relocating to their new home at Three Hills Farm, in Bartlow, Little Hands nursery staff found themselves facing an Ofsted inspection.

Since losing their lease at the Station House, Linton, staff and pupils were operating out of shared, temporary accommodation in Granta Park until this time last year when Bartlow Estates came to the rescue.

A joint project between Little Hands and Bartlow Estates to renovate and refurbish a redundant farm building on Three Hills Farm began, and two relocations and a major building project later Little Hands - Linton and Bartlow opened its doors for business.

A spokeswoman for the nursery said: "Just 12 weeks of term time after opening and with management and staff still finding their feet in their new home, the Ofsted inspector came calling."

In its report the pre-school and nursery was judged to be outstanding in seven of the areas of assessment and "good" in a further seven.

Support group to hold first meeting

BY JOHN GOODE

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A NEW support group is being launched for parents whose children have the little-known disorder dyspraxia.

Liam Plumridge, who was diagnosed with the disorder at the age of seven and has become a national ambassador for dyspraxia sufferers since he was featured in a BBC2 television series, will speak at the first meeting on April 14.

Liam, 18, of Beaufort Court, Haverhill, is also featured in a follow-up programme Beyond Boundaries - Where Are They Now? which is due to be screened on Sunday, April 5.

He said: "The programme was a big success in raising awareness about dyspraxia which is a disability that's hardly ever heard about.

"We want as many people as possible to come to the support group, which is not just for Haverhill. It's for people all over Suffolk and Cambridge. We want to get a really good support group for dyspraxia parents."

Liam recently spoke to a similar support group in North Wales where around 100 people attended the meeting.

Sarah Neale, co-ordinator for the Dyspraxia Foundation Suffolk Parent Support Group, said regular meetings were planned for the second Tuesday of each month at the Centre for Voluntary Agencies in Lower Downs Slade, Raising awareness: Liam Plumridge on his Beyond Boundaries trek.

Haverhill, starting at 6.30pm.

Mrs Neale, whose daughter Sophie was diagnosed with dyspraxic tendencies in October 2006, said the first meeting would be informal and would include a talk by Liam about his experiences.

She said: "Bringing up a child with dyspraxia is a constant rollercoaster of highs and lows. This is my reason for becoming a local co-ordinator.

"Sophie, my family and I have learned much along our journey and I know there are many more families just like ours. We should support each other and work together to help raise awareness of dyspraxia and what that means for our children.

"I hope lots of parents will come along to help get the group off to a strong start."

Football memorabilia up for grabs at village auction

BIDS will be taken for a host of signed Arsenal and West Ham souvenirs at an auction.

The event will be held at the Red Lion pub in Steeple Bumpstead on Saturday at 7pm.

Funds raised will go to the local under 10s football club, the Steeple Bumpstead Dynamos.

Items up for auction include goalie gloves signed by Arsenal's goalkeeper Manuel Almunia, a football signed by the team and several autographed photos. There will also be a couple of footballs signed by the West Ham squad up for grabs.

Councils set to come together under one new roof

TWO councils will be based under the one roof for the first time.

St Edmundsbury Borough Council and Suffolk County Council are moving into West Suffolk House, in Western Way, Bury St Edmunds, with the opening of the new building set to take place on Monday at 8.45am.

West Suffolk House brings staff together from three sites – borough offices, St Edmundsbury House and Shire Hall.

Cllr John Griffiths, leader of St Edmundsbury Borough Council, said: "This exciting move makes sense for everyone.

"It will improve services for council taxpayers in St Edmundsbury by providing long term savings and better, more joined up services.

"We are looking forward to the move and the benefits it can provide for both our staff and customers."

Cllr Jeremy Pembroke, leader of Suffolk County Council, was delighted by the move, he said: "We know from experience following our move to Endeavour House in Ipswich that a modern and flexible working environment can bring great benefits to the people for whom we provide services.

"I'm sure this is the start of a very exciting and positive partnership between our two councils."

For clarity both councils will be keeping their main switchboard numbers – St Edmundsbury's is (01284) 763233 and the county council's is (01284) 352000.

Arrests over gym graffiti

TWO youths have been questioned by police investigating vandalism at Haverhill's leisure centre and swimming pool.

The pool, currently closed for a £5 million refurbishment, was daubed with obscene graffiti and paint was splashed around the site.

Nearly £600 damage was caused in the incident, which was spotted by gym users on Sunday.

A spokesman for Abbeycroft Leisure, which runs leisure facilities in Haverhill and Bury St Edmunds, said the incident would not delay the refurbishment project, which is on schedule for completion in July.

Police said two youths, aged 17 and 16, from Haverhill, had been arrested on suspicion of burglary and had been released on bail to return to Bury St Edmunds police station on April 29.

Green fingers get digging at school

PUPILS and parents at a village school got digging to give its grounds a makeover.

Around 25 adults and a similar number of children took part in the fourth Family Gardening Morning at Kedington Primary School.

The "diggers and growers" planted 30 hedging saplings and prepared a garden ready for planting on behalf of the linked school in France.

Shrubs and paving slabs were laid to prepare the area. The three-hour gardening session is the latest environmental project involving the school.

Region is among country's finest

HAVERHILL is one of the best places to live in the country, according to the town's mayor.

A new report has identified St Edmundsbury as the rural area with the eighth best quality of life in the country.

The findings were based upon research in the Halifax Quality of Life Survey, which compared areas for their labour and housing markets, as well as their environment, schools, life expectancy and health provision.

The results have been backed by Councillor Les Ager, mayor of Haverhill, who paid tribute to the town's location and community spirit.

He said: "Haverhill is pretty well situated – it's 50 miles from London, 50 miles from the coast and is close to places like Cambridge and Norwich.

"It doesn't have a railway station, but it is close to the motorway.

"The people are a very friendly sort of crowd, and it's a place that's well known for supporting charities. There is a good community spirit."

Top of the league table was nearby Mid Suffolk, closely followed by South Cambridgeshire.

A spokeswoman for Choose Suffolk, the not-for-profit organisation set up to promote the county for business, investment and tourism, welcomed the announcement.

She said: "This is great news for companies thinking about relocating to or expanding their business in Suffolk.

"Especially given Suffolk's competitive commercial property prices, its close proximity to London and mainland Europe, and its growing population – Suffolk's population of 679,000 is forecast to grow to over 730,000 within the next 15 years."

Vimmi Hayes, Choose Suffolk's inward investment manager, says: "Choose Suffolk is delighted that St Edmundsbury has been identified as one of the top places to live in rural England.

"Given its excellent schools, beautiful countryside, and competitive property prices, St Edmundsbury, like the rest of Suffolk, has plenty to offer businesses seeking to relocate to, or invest in, the area."

Students' soapbox racer set to take on Lotus

A STREAMLINED high-tech soapbox racer has been designed and developed by students at a Haverhill school.

The Gravity Racer will be featured on Five television's Gadget Show on Monday night.

Students at Samuel Ward Arts and Technology College were involved in building the miniature racing car over just four days after former teacher David Ackroyd was approached by the show's producers.

They wanted a Gravity Racer to take on a similar machine built by experts at sports car firm Lotus.

The Samuel Ward youngsters were helped by engineering students from Loughborough College.

The race between the two machines was filmed at the Cadwell Park circuit in Lincolnshire. But the outcome will not be revealed until the programme is screened at 8pm on Monday.

NHS bosses plan for healthy future

A FIVE year plan for improving Suffolk's health services has been launched.

NHS Suffolk's Strategic Plan outlines how future health issues are expected to be tackled – particularly those related to the ageing population.

The plan shows that there is a difference of more than 11 years in life expectancy between the healthiest and least healthy parts of the county.

The Healthy Ambitions Suffolk plan outlines how NHS Suffolk is going to turn intentions into action by focusing on 12 key areas for improvement:

primary and community care, long-term conditions, access to psychological therapies, urgent care, clinical safety and patient experience, dementia, planned care, children and young people, cancer, end of life care and maternity.

Carole Taylor-Brown, chief executive of NHS Suffolk, said: "As health commissioners, our responsibility is to assess current and future health needs, plan, develop, procure and quality assure healthcare services to meet the needs of our population, listening to and balancing the different views of all the communities we serve.

"By doing this we can ensure that all people in Suffolk can be, and stay, healthy, confident that they will have timely access to safe, high quality healthcare services when they need them."

Parents return to classrooms

A HAVERHILL school is doing its bit to make parents feel part of their children's life inside the classroom.

Westfield Community Primary School held a "shared learning day", inviting parents to join their children in classes and in the playground.

The pioneering move by the Manor Road school comes as a new survey revealed many parents feel

BY STEPHEN EXLEY

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

"excluded" by their children's reticence about their day.

The report by Becta, the Government's educational technology agency, suggests children do not like to be "hassled" by parental inquiries, with 82 per cent of parents wishing they knew more about their children's school life.

A school spokeswoman said: "Parents have been invited in to shadow the pupils to experience a day in the life of children at the school.

"They got to experience classes, snack time and outside activities.

"This was for the foundation children, so they and the parents are new to the school. We wanted them to understand what the children are telling them about when they come home from school."

In the Becta report, only 16 per cent of parents surveyed said their children volunteered information about their day at school.

Psychologist and Government adviser Tanya Byron, who put together the report, said: "Many parents anxiously question their kids at the end of the school day and this creates tension, conflict and a lack of essential communication."

The survey also found that more than a third of young people said they found it difficult to speak to their parents about school.

More than two in five parents found it hard to "extract information" about school from their children.

Becta suggests that school websites and online resources for homework can help to make parents "feel much more a part of their child's learning".

Lin Whyte, headteacher at Bar Hill Primary School, believes a wide range of methods should be used to engage parents with their children's education.

She said: "We have multi-agency coffee mornings, which offer parents the chance to meet with a variety of local practitioners, including the school nurse, education welfare officer and parent support adviser.

"We also send out fortnightly newsletters, as well as ParentMail emails, and have regular questionnaires on a range of issues, from homework to how to cater for gifted and talented pupils.

"We think it is important that parents feel part of the decision-making process.

"I also think it is important to have an open door policy - parents have access to teachers before and after school.

"It is essential they can discuss any concerns they have."

Why was he driving a bus?

Sir, I am writing with reference to an article in your paper last week (Arrest warrant issued for bus crash driver – Weekly News, March 19).

I was happy to read at the time of the accident that there were no children on the bus. But what horrified me was that the driver in question, Ivo Harp, was employed by Burtons to drive around school children when he already had speeding and careless driving offences, with nine points on his licence.

Is the firm mad? It is quite disgraceful. Perhaps something should be put in your paper about the irresponsible Burtons.

Why county's gritting team was on thin ice

Report: Mark Kemp, right, says Cambridgeshire came close to running out of salt.

THE full scale of the gritting crisis facing Cambridgeshire during the bitterly cold snap has been revealed.

Mark Kemp, county council director of highways, says the authority came "perilously close" to running out of rock salt for gritting vehicles.

In a report, he says that by February 9, after more than a week of freezing weather, the council had enough salt to complete only three or four more full runs – or two days' worth.

Mr Kemp says: "We were very close to running out

BY SUZAN UZEL and LAURA JEAN MORRIS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

and we were also struggling to get in more supplies. The reason was simply that the whole country was hit by the weather at the same time.

"It's not something I have ever come across before, but it was serious, and we did all we could to respond accordingly."

His report was due to be presented to the environment and community services scrutiny committee last night.

A national shortage of salt saw the county council operate a more limited gritting run for several days and even try to use table salt as an alternative.

However, it was found to be impossible to use table salt through normal gritting methods.

The report comes as the Cambridge Cycling Campaign renewed calls for cycleways to be gritted during icy weather, along with minor roads.

The campaign conducted an online questionnaire asking people to say what areas should be prioritised for gritting during icy periods, if they or someone they know had an accident or near miss while on a bike, and to summarise their message to the council on the issue of gritting.

About 100 people reported cycling accidents or near-misses in the survey, with some citing countless occasions when they had slipped on ice.

Council leaders blast 'fudge' over boundary

BY JOHN DOWNING

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

COUNCIL leaders have branded Boundary Committee proposals as a "dog's dinner".

The committee announced last Thursday that it will consult on just two options – a single Suffolk unitary authority and a two-unitary model, one for Ipswich and Lowestoft and one for the rest of the county.

Plans to transfer Lowestoft to Norfolk have been dropped.

Forest Heath District, St Edmundsbury Borough and Waveney District councils, which cover the Newmarket and Haverhill areas and which all face the axe in the reorganisation, favoured three unitary councils – one each for the east and west of the county and one for Greater Ipswich.

All three councils expressed shock that their solution has been dropped in favour of the "fudge" proposed by the committee to replace Suffolk County Council and seven district or borough councils.

Cllr Geoffrey Jaggard, leader of Forest Heath, Cllr John Griffiths, leader of St Edmundsbury and Cllr Mark Bee, leader of Waveney, made their views clear in a joint statement.

They said: "We are shocked that in the face of clear public support for the inclusion of our proposals the Boundary Committee has brazenly ignored the public's desire for a proper consultation on a local government system which would be focused on areas each with their own, very different identities and economies.

"The committee has missed the opportunity given to it by the Secretary of State to consider its position and re-think what people in Suffolk have said they want and need.

"Instead it has produced a fudge which still recommends giant remote councils, delivering a one-size-fits-all solution for different and diverse communities across the county.

"Despite a lengthy and hugely expensive process we are quite simply back where we started.

"The dog's dinner moves on to yet another course."

The councils said research showed that only 25 per cent of people wanted the single-unitary One Suffolk option and only 14 per cent favoured the two-unitary model.

The leaders said: "The needs of local people are not being heard or met. And while they may use the slogan 'Democracy Matters', the way the Boundary Committee has ignored public opinion reveals the reality that, for them, 'bureaucracy matters'."

The formal consultation process lasts until May 14.

Campaign for cancer tests

EURO MP Robert Sturdy hosted the launch of an anti-cancer campaign in the European Parliament.

The campaign is being run by europacoln, a charity which is urging all 27 member states to fully implement EU recommendations for colorectal cancer screening.

Mr Sturdy, who is based in Cambridgeshire, said: "This is a deadly disease which is highly treatable if diagnosed early, but people think it will never happen to them, and rarely talk about it because of the delicate area of the body involved. This should not be a taboo subject."

Spring on in for inspirational art

BY JOHN GOODE

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

ARTISTS from Cambridgeshire, Suffolk and Essex are displaying their work in a spring show at Haverhill's 1st Floor Fine Art Gallery in Lower Downs Slade.

The exhibition, which opens on Saturday and runs to May 9, features artists who have taken part in open studio schemes in Suffolk and Cambridgeshire.

Among those whose art is on display is Mark Ward, whose works in oil and acrylic relate largely to Africa, where he has lived. Some of his work is also currently on display at the Agora Gallery in Chelsea, New York.

Sue Walker, from Hadstock, works in acrylics and collage to capture landscapes of East Anglia and other scenes.

Darryl Nantais was born in Cambridgeshire but settled in Norwich where he studied Norfolk painters such as Cotman and Bright. His work draws on his love of nature.

Other artists include Martin C

Shaw, Elizabeth James, Rosemary Simpson, Elizabeth Cooke, David Doughty, Tiffany Budd, Kevin Franks, Robin Macdonald, Madeleine Beck, Jon Adkin, as well as gallery proprietor, Gary Theobald.

The 1st Floor Gallery is open

Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons from 1-5pm and Saturday between 9am and 4pm.

For further information contact the 1st Floor Gallery on (01440) 762444 or email gary@garytheobald-art.com

Asbestos concerns

FRESH fears have been raised about asbestos in schools.

A national newspaper has released figures claiming more than 22,000 of Britain's 25,000 schools could be contaminated with potentially deadly asbestos. The article highlighted Cambridgeshire in its study - where 240 out of 251 schools contain asbestos. The substance can give off tiny fibres linked with deadly diseases such as lung cancer, asbestosis and mesothelioma.

The figures were obtained by the Weekly News last year under the Freedom of Information Act.

The county council said the material was safe unless disturbed. It said the material was regularly inspected and its safety procedures had been praised by the Health and Safety Executive.

Washing cuts infection rate

INFECTIONS have been reduced thanks to a hand hygiene campaign.

Cambridgeshire Community Services (CCS), which runs community hospitals and provides nursing at home, has introduced the award-winning Cleanyourhands campaign for all "hands on" staff.

Chris Sharp, CCS matron for infection prevention and control, said: "This and other initiatives have contributed to CCS reducing its healthcare acquired infection rates, with no cases of MRSA to date for 2008/09, and only nine cases of C diff to date, well below the anticipated level."

Choose the perfect pint

ALE lovers can now choose what kind of head they want on their pint.

Drinkers can decide whether they would like their pint of Greene King's IPA with a creamy, northern-style head - or a more fizzy, southern equivalent.

The new pouring system is being tested at 45 Greene King pubs, with the new tap system changing the head's consistency without adding any extra gas.

A Greene King spokeswoman said: "This system allows you to have the type of tingle on your tongue you like the best."

Kebab man Stav ready for High Street return

FAST food seller Stav hopes to be back in business this weekend after finding a replacement for his stolen kebab van.

Stav, whose real name is Ertunc Mihrikani, was shattered when his van was stolen about two weeks ago from his lock-up in Cambridge Way, Haverhill.

Now he intends to get back to serving his loyal customers in Haverhill High Street after finding a replacement.

Stav, 58, who has been selling kebabs in the town for 20 years, said: "Normally it takes four to six weeks to get a new van. But the firm that fits them out was doing one up and I was able to get that one."

"A lot of people have been asking me when I'll be back."

"I'm hoping to be open today, but if not then it'll definitely be Friday."

There has been no sign of his original van, worth around £15,000, which was stolen, along with two generators.

But police are still investigating and anyone with information should call Haverhill police on (01284) 774100.

Gleamers: Making your oven sparkle

IF your oven is in need of a spring clean, and no amount of scrubbing will shift the months of baked on grease, then Gleamers oven cleaning company, will soon have it sparkling again for you.

The company is owned by Francis Rutter, who became an independent business 11 months ago after operating as an oven cleaning franchise (formerly known as Ovensclean) for 18 months.

His efficient service has earned him a client base of more than 800 customers, who return to him time and again to have their ovens cleaned.

Gleamers can transform your oven, hob, extractor hood, microwave or barbecue using non-caustic cleaning solutions, which offer an eco-friendly way of removing grease, fat and burnt on food.

Francis works in approximately 30 miles of Haverhill, and so far has cleaned more than 1,200 ovens. "Some are harder to clean than others, and many of my customers feel a bit embarrassed by the state of their oven," says Francis. "We all cook in different ways, so there is nothing to be embarrassed about.

"At the end of the day we all get a dirty oven that we hate to clean, so I can soon have it gleaming, and with regular cleaning your food tastes better, your oven is not smoking, and it will prolong the life of your oven."

Francis offers a courtesy call back service every six or 12 months to see if you would like to re-book your next clean to save you the trouble of remembering to call him.

So if your oven is smoking like a barbecue, and you want to bring the bling back to your kitchen, please call Francis at Gleamers on (01440) 761515.

Meeting rejects plan for turbines

AROUND 200 people packed a public meeting on Tuesday to debate controversial plans for a wind farm near Linton.

Hosted by the Stop Linton Wind Farm (SLWF) group, the campaign meeting at Linton village hall heard experts talk about the potential environmental and health risks involved with the proposals.

Renewable energy firm Enertrag submitted plans to South Cambridgeshire and Uttlesford district councils earlier this month for eight 125m tall turbines on farmland near Linton and Great Chesterton.

Adrian Thomas, a member of SLWF, said: "In my introduction to the meeting I quoted a passage from Enertrag's environmental impact assessment, which says 'Linton is an area without any specific landscape value'.

"This comment created an audible gasp from the audience."

Dr Sue Robinson, an accident and emergency consultant, was one of the speakers during the evening.

She spoke about the potential health risks associated with turbines from shadow flicker and low level noise.

BY LAURA JEAN MORRIS

Dr Robinson said: "The long-term impacts of turbines are still relatively unknown. The studies to assess them haven't been done.

"Certainly there are risks for some sufferers of photosensitive epilepsy who may find the shadow flicker, caused by the blades of the turbines, could affect them.

"And low level noise could cause sleeplessness in residents too. And sleep deprivation can cause symptoms ranging from mild confusion, to headaches."

Mr Thomas said at the end of the evening he called for a show of hands from people in the audience that now objected to the proposed wind farm development, and added: "The response was overwhelming. As far as I could see, it was a unanimous show of hands."

He said the SLWF group has organised a blimp to be flown on Saturday over the proposed site to show how tall the structures will be.

Controversy: the row over a proposed wind farm at Linton is set to intensify as both Uttlesford and South Cambridgeshire district councils consider the plans.

Force backs use of Tasers as police get new weapons

POLICE in Cambridgeshire are being armed with an extra 150 Taser weapons.

The stun guns are being supplied by the Home Office, and other forces in the region will share a further 350.

The guns, which deliver a powerful electric shock, are said to be safer than conventional firearms, but critics point to a number of cases where their use has been linked to deaths and serious harm.

They have been on trial in 10 police force areas, and are now being "rolled out" around the country for use by what the Home Office calls "specially trained police response officers".

A Home Office spokesman said: "Tasers are safer for the police and for the public. In situations where there has been a real possibility of someone being seriously injured or killed, Tasers have contributed to resolving the incident without injury.

"In a significant proportion of cases they have not needed to be fired – drawing or aiming the Taser has been enough of a deterrent."

He said police forces were asked to bid for the number of guns they felt they needed.

Chief Superintendent Karen Daber, who will be in charge of

BY CHRIS ELLIOTT

Email: editor@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

deploying the Tasers, said the reason why Cambridgeshire appeared to be getting a large number in comparison to other counties was that many forces would already have a sizeable stock of the guns, in some cases because they had been participating in the trials.

She said: "We have done detailed research of what we need them for, and how many we need, over the next two to three years.

"Only a small number will ever be out operationally at any one time."

She dismissed allegations that Tasers could be killers.

She said: "There have been deaths in situations where Tasers have been used, but those deaths have not been caused by the Tasers themselves, but by other factors, such as someone falling over and hitting their head.

"It's a brilliant piece of kit."

Home Secretary Jacqui Smith said: "Every day the police put themselves in danger to protect us, the public.

"They deserve our support, so I want to give the police the tools they tell me they need to confront dangerous people."

Shocking: one of the Home Office Taser stun guns.

Future looks bright: for Genzyme's Haverhill operations. The firm has received a "positive opinion" for its new kidney treatment drug.

Positive signs for drugs firm

A STEP towards European approval of a new drug for kidney disease sufferers has been hailed as good news for a Haverhill factory.

American firm Genzyme, whose Haverhill factory employs around 350 people, has welcomed the "positive opinion" expressed by the European Medicine Agency's committee for human medicinal products for the marketing authorisation of a new product, Renvela, for use by patients with chronic kidney disease.

The Haverhill factory, in Rookwood Way, is the main bulk manufacturing facility for sevelamer carbonate, which is also known as Renvela.

The drug, a phosphate binder, is shipped to the USA where it was launched a year ago.

A spokeswoman for Genzyme said: "There have been major investments in bulk Renvela manufacture at Haverhill in recent years and the announcement is an important further positive step towards larger scale manufacturing of the product at the site."

"This builds on breakthroughs in process R&D and significant growth of the label, pack and distribution operation at Haverhill."

"In the last five years, capital investment at the site has exceeded £100m and the site now employs around 350 people."

The committee's opinion will now be forwarded to the European Commission, which will make a final decision on the drug's authorisation.

The spokesman said the commission "generally" follows the advice of the committee, "but is not obliged to do so".

A decision from the commission is expected at the end of May.

John P Butler, president of cardiometabolic and renal divisions at Genzyme in the USA, said: "We are delighted with this positive opinion."

"If confirmed by the European Commission, this will be the first phosphate binder for patients not on dialysis approved through the centralised procedure."

"This is an acknowledgement of the value Renvela is expected to bring to patients with chronic kidney disease."

College students in the frame

THE caption accompanying photos used in last week's article, "Students bounce into the spirit of Red Nose Day", incorrectly stated that the students pictured were from Castle Manor Business and

They did, in fact, show pupils from Samuel Ward Arts and Technology College, and were taken by teacher Russ Bennett.

We would like to apologise for the error.

Meet and greet: the Safer Neighbourhood Team meets VION workers.

CP

Team's foreign word of advice

INTERPRETERS were called in to help police chat to migrant workers and those from minority communities.

Officers from the St Edmundsbury Rural South Safer Neighbourhood Team (SNT) held a community engagement session at VION food products factory in Little Wratting last week.

The VION plant, formerly Grampian Country Foods, is one of the largest employers in Haverhill.

About 20 per cent of the workforce originates from countries such as Portugal, Slovakia, Russia, Lithuania, Poland, Hungary and other European Union countries.

Sergeant Neil Ireland, of the SNT, said: "We planned an engagement day as we wanted to ensure that all of the employees felt confident about approaching us if they have any problems either at work or where they live, to ensure they do not feel excluded."

"It is really important for us to keep a good relationship with such a large group of employees in the Haverhill area."

"We wanted to speak to employees in their own language so we organised interpreters and had our standard posters translated into numerous languages."

Workers were briefed on driving laws and were given personal safety information. Representatives from county council social services and the Citizens Advice Bureau also took part in the day.

The SNT is aiming to maintain a close relationship with the workforce and management.

County's Good swim success

BY JOHN GOODE

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

SUFFOLK will lead the way in pioneering methods to increase participation in swimming and get more people active.

The county has been named an Everyday Swim Good Practice Centre for its previous successes in attracting people to pools and getting them swimming regularly, particularly adults.

The Everyday Swim project has already succeeded in getting people aged over 45 back into the pool.

A full programme of what's on offer in Suffolk for those interested in learning to swim will be made available on the Everyday Swim website, www.everydayswim.org in May.

Joy: Cllr Lisa Chambers.

Cllr Lisa Chambers, county council portfolio holder for cultural and economic development, said: "It is terrific news that Suffolk's bid to become a Good Practice Centre has been successful. This award is a fantastic opportunity to ensure Suffolk's pools stay at the forefront of innovative, creative and targeted programming to achieve a lasting legacy for the health and well-being of residents across the county."

David Sparkes, chief executive of the Amateur Swimming Association, the national governing body for all aspects of swimming, said: "I would like to congratulate Suffolk on being named as a Good Practice Centre."

"It will pioneer a very important area of work, the sharing of knowledge on how to get more people swimming and get them swimming more often."

"The work of the Good Practice Centres will be able to continue thanks to the efforts of all of the Everyday Swim areas."

All rates are variable. The gross rate is the rate before deducting tax at the rate applicable to savings income. The annual equivalent rate (AER) is a notional rate which illustrates the contractual rate (excluding any bonus interest payable) as if paid and compounded on an annual basis. Full details of terms and conditions applying to all Society accounts are contained in the savings, ISA and e-saver terms and conditions leaflets, or any product specific terms and conditions. Interest is paid annually, with the exception of the Cashbuild 60, e-saver and e-saver 55-plus monthly income options, which are paid monthly. Interest rates of Society accounts not listed here are available on request. Saffron Building Society is a member of the Building Societies Association and subscribes to The Banking Code. *This is not a stakeholder product.

Bank of England base rate is 0.50% with effect 05/03/09

Individual Savings Accounts (ISAs) pay interest tax-free provided all terms and conditions of the account types are met. On all other accounts, interest will be paid at the net rate after the appropriate rate of income tax (currently 20%) has been deducted, or gross on receipt of the required declaration form. Where interest is paid net, the income tax may be reclaimed if the amount deducted exceeds the investor's tax liability. Net rates are illustrative only and have been rounded to two decimal places.

Search for owner of gold ring

A WOMAN'S ring found in Haverhill has been handed in at the town's police station.

Gina Marchesi, of Crowland Road, Haverhill, found the gold ring, which contains three white stones, in the middle of her road on her way home at about 5.15pm on Thursday, March 5.

She could claim the ring if the rightful owner does not come forward.

Miss Marchesi said: "I don't really want to keep it if it's of sentimental value to someone. I hope someone goes in to claim it."

Anyone wanting to claim the ring should call in at the station or speak to the desk clerk on (01284) 774100.

West Wickham

TOPICS discussed at last month's meeting of the parish council were:

Trevor Hall expressed interest in helping with the Parish Plan if a decision was made to do this. There is doubt as to how beneficial the parish would find having a Parish Plan when it came to certain issues such as traffic but, on the positive side, by getting the village involved this would bring parishioners together and their views on how they would like to see West Wickham develop. This will be discussed further.

Playground: It is hoped work will be done in the spring.

Speed limit in Streetly End: Discussion continues between the police, the county council and the parish council regarding the wish to change the speed limit from 40mph to 30mph in Streetly End. The parish council is prepared to put money towards the cost of signage but disagrees that there is also a need for gating. Traffic-calming signs could be put in later when further money is available. County councillor John Batchelor will get itemised costings.

Finance: The budget for 2009/10 was discussed. It was noted that this year's budget was on target with a further £1,000 to be added to the reserves of £4,000 for the refurbishment of playgroup and equipment. It was agreed to make a provision of £3,000 towards the cost of changing the speed limit to 30 mph in Streetly End with £1,000 coming from precept and £2,000 from reserves. Following competitive tendering a new contract, worth £1,375 pa, was awarded for the cutting of the playground and playing field. A budget of £7,310.37 was agreed to the precept to be set at £7,100, an increase of 32.4 per cent.

Planning: Tree work at Cobwebs saw two trees cut down, a lime in error and a chestnut for which permission had been granted. The lime will be replaced. There is still work to be carried out on trees on the footpath and this may have to be temporarily closed while work is done.

There is still no date set for the Wind Farm inquiry. District councillor Vicky Ford will get in touch with Thurlow Estate over the kerb damage caused by the lorries coming through the village.

A letter has been received from P Jordon, owner of the White Horse pub, in response to a letter from the parish council, saying it was his intention to open an antiques shop and he was making the necessary alterations. The parish clerk is to contact South Cambridgeshire District Council's enforcement officer to inquire how he is able to do this.

Risk management: An assessment form requiring completion was discussed and it was decided the chairman would deal with section one – village assets, and parish clerk and Cllr Morris would deal with sections two and three, to be carried out before the next meeting.

Freedom of Information: Any information required by a parishioner would be made available with a charge made for any photocopies. Hand written notes made by the parish clerk at the meeting will not be available and are destroyed at the end of each financial year.

Report by Cllr Ford: The bin collections carried out over the Christmas period were a successful change after last year's poor service. Prices for recycling have dropped but SCDC has a fixed price contract so will not be affected.

Burglaries: a sharp increase in the area so please be alert, cautious and watch out for your neighbours as well as yourselves.

Report by Cllr Batchelor: Gritting – complaints have been made about the lack of gritting but this year's routes for gritting are committed and the parish must request changes for next year.

Police: The policy authority wishes to maintain a presence in Linton.

Cars damaged in vandalism spree

SEVEN parked cars were damaged during a vandalism spree in Haverhill.

Windows were smashed, mirrors broken off and bodywork was dented leaving owners with a repair bill of more than £1,000.

The cars were parked in Castle Avenue, Princess Way, Crowland

Road and Belvoir Court between 7pm last Friday and 10.30am the following day.

Anyone with information should call Pc Colin Cox at Haverhill police station on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

In a separate incident, a blue

Chrysler Jeep parked in a car park in Ehringshausen Way, Haverhill, was scratched along its side. The damage, which will cost £150 to repair, was discovered at 6.45am on Tuesday, March 17.

Anyone with information should call Pc Andrew Green on the station number.

POPULAR bluegrass band Monroe's Revenge will make a return to the region with an appearance at the Bluebell Inn in Hempstead.

The gig, on Thursday, April 2, will see the band play their repertory of bad boy ballads.

The musicians say their music will be well at home in this pub, which is where the notorious highwayman Dick Turpin was born. Featuring the traditional bluegrass line-up of banjo, fiddle, mandolin, guitar and double bass, and mixing in strong vocal harmonies and breathtaking instrumental playing, Monroe's Revenge are an exhilarating live act. And their recordings are being well received too: their new self-titled CD received a five-star review in the March 2009 issue of

MAVERICK magazine, which raves that: "Each and every track just breathes quality. What a joy it is to hear." The gig will kick off at 8pm and tickets cost £7. For more information visit www.monroesrevenge.co.uk

Punk legends: The Blockheads are kicking off a 12 date UK tour with a gig at Cambridge's The Junction next week

Not so new kids on the Block ride again

BY PAUL KIRKLEY

PUNK legends The Blockheads return to Cambridge next week in support of their new studio album, Staring Down The Barrel.

Three decades after selling a million copies of the number one hit Hit Me With Your Rhythm Stick with the late, great Ian Dury, The Blockheads remain one of the UK's most inventive and distinctive bands.

The current line-up features original members Chaz Jankel, Mickey Gallagher, Norman Watt-Roy and Johnny Turnbull, plus Dylan Howe and Gilad Atzmon – both of whom have been with the band since 1998's Mr Love Pants album – alongside new vocalist Derek The Draw, who was Dury's minder and friend for 10 years.

With Dury as frontman, The Blockheads recorded some of the most memorable songs in the British pop canon, including Sex & Drugs & Rock & Roll, Reasons to Be Cheerful, Part 3, and the aforementioned Hit Me..., as well as five acclaimed albums, including 1977's seminal New Boots & Panties.

Boasting a cover designed by Dury's former art teacher, Pop Art genius Sir Peter Blake, Staring Down The Barrel features 10 new songs, with subject matter ranging from financial collapse and selfishness with Roll Over, Greed and Dirty Money, to the state of the environment; Prophet Of Doom and Elegant Style, and urban decay: No Go Central, all populated by a raggle-taggle collection of Machiavellian villains.

vagrants, desperadoes, eccentrics and other deceivers and outsiders. But, as you'd expect from The Blockheads, the bittersweet lyrics are tempered by the band's unique brew of rock 'n' roll, jazz, music hall, soul and funk, resulting in an album aimed as much at the feet as the head.

Since 2002, the band have rarely been off the road, playing literally hundreds of dates a year.

To celebrate the release of Staring Down The Barrel, the band are embarking on a 12-date UK tour which kicks off at The Junction in Cambridge on Wednesday. Tickets are £18.

National treasure: one of the best-loved works of Alan Bennett, above, plays at the Cambridge ADC Theatre, left, this week. CP

Bennett parks up at ADC

BY PAUL KIRKLEY

AS FANS of Alan Bennett will vouch, The Lady in the Van is among the playwright's best-loved works.

And, thanks to the locally based amateur dramatic company Bawds, the autobiographical tale that proves that truth is both stranger and more amusing than fiction, is coming to the Cambridge stage this week.

Opening at the ADC Theatre, Park Street, on Tuesday, it tells the real life tale of one Miss Shepherd – an elderly and highly eccentric lady who took up residence on Bennett's London driveway, in an ancient custard-yellow van.

Taking pity on the old lady, banned from parking on the street, Bennett allowed her to move onto his Camden drive for three months; she ended up staying for 15 years.

Spanning several decades, the play features two Alan Bennetts: the first, David Foyle, is involved in the action as it unfolds in 1974; the other, Barry Brown, looks back on events from the present day. A trained concert pianist, ex-nun, ex-ambulance driver and would-be Prime Minister, Miss Shepherd, played by Rosemary Eason, is a tour de force – who compels her benefactor to turn down his radio, recharge her van battery and eventually become her carer.

Described as "a deliciously comic theatrical evening", the Bawds production runs until Saturday. The show plays nightly at 7.45pm, with a Saturday matinee at 2.30pm. Tickets are £7-£9. To book call (01223) 300 085 or visit www.adctheatre.com

The Traditional Way to sell a Property

Get Estate Agents to value it and put it on the market.

Show people around the property.
(Mostly "Nosy Parkers" & Sightseers)

If no offers received after 2 or 3 months, reduce price.

Show more people around.

Eventually accept an offer at between 5 & 10% off the advertised price.

Hope the sale doesn't fall through.
(Over 30% of sales don't reach completion).

Once price agreed, wait a further 3 months for sale to complete.

Work out how many £,000's it has cost you in reducing the price, making mortgage payments, paying Estate Agents fee's and Legal fee's since you started the process (on average, 7 months ago...)

Toyota iQ is full of smart moves

TOYOTA'S iQ is one of the most welcome small cars to have emerged in the race towards a low-emissions motoring scenario, writes Mike Scialom.

Eco-cool has hitherto been a concept at best, and the moniker sits uneasily with the likes of the imposingly serious Prius and Civic hybrids. Now, thanks to a canny design – and Toyota claims six production firsts on board the iQ – you actually get to have fun while you're driving a car that is frugal (65.7mpg on average) and cute (a design this futuristic will still look good way down the line). Oh and did I mention that, with emissions of 99g/km – ie under the magic 100g/km barrier – you get free road tax? Not even the smart (103g/km) manages that, let alone other small cars like the Fiat 500 (119g/km) or the Citroen C1 (106g/km).

Inside: Plenty of space.

Aside from being cool, the iQ drives rather well. Those design innovations have done the trick. Just for the record, they are:

1. Front-mounted differential. Axle is right at the front, improving stability and allowing for more cabin space.

2. Centre Take-Off Steering: Tie rods for steering run to centre (conventional rack and pinion set-up runs to sides) again creating more space.

3. Underfloor Fuel Tank: Means more space at the back.

4. Space-saving aircon unit. Aircon units – usually found behind the passenger's dashboard – are bulky. Toyota cut the iQ's aircon size by 20 per cent, freeing up cabin space and reducing weight.

5. The Asymmetrical Dashboard: Having saved space on the aircon the reshaped dashboard creates extra room in the front.

6. Ultra-slim seats: New design means an extra 40mm space at knee level.

These innovations have a practical outcome. Being over six feet tall means a lot of small cars are so uncomfortable they are quite literally a pain for me to drive. But the front seats of the iQ are spacious and snug, easily as accommodating as a saloon.

The innovations don't stop there either. The futuristic layout results in a distinctive dashboard, with good build quality. If the stereo controls are all located on one steering wheel-mounted knob, which is way too fiddly and imprecise, that's a shame but I guess you could get used to it – just avoid trying to change the channel or alter the volume when you're driving at speed.

The three-cylinder engine has enough guts for the motorway, and the automatic gearbox does the business with none of the ridiculous stop-start anxiety that marks the Smart out as a go-kart. In town the turning circle is nice and tight and the steering is light enough to please even those who don't like the niftier manoeuvres which city traffic requires of drivers. The whole driving experience is smooth and quiet and hard to fault. Low running costs are the icing on one very refined cake.

The Toyota iQ: A perfect match for the region.

What Toyota has managed to do with the iQ is create the simplest of cars to drive, and it has achieved this by getting a whole lot of engineering firsts to work unobtrusively together. For that the firm deserves a round of applause. The only problem I have with the vehicle is the price (and the poor retained value of 38 per cent). The iQ's list price of £9,295 is unlikely to be discounted and this is steep given that you could buy a Citroen C1 and save yourself a grand and a half – heavens, you could save yourself two grand if you went for a VW Fox. Why doesn't Peter Mandelson shove some bail-out cash towards iQ buyers instead of handing it over to car makers? Now that would be a smart move.

Basically

Neat, cute, natty, refined, lots of kit, solid, well-made and a really fun car to drive.

THE economic downturn is leading to a change of attitudes for hard-pressed motorists around the UK.

With garage labour charges averaging more than £80 per hour, people are undertaking more servicing and repairs themselves – and they are turning to the Haynes Manual that has supported motorists for more than 45 years and has reported a surge in sales of its car guides.

Haynes publishes guides to more than 500 cars and has global sales totalling 150 million. The £19.99 manuals are sold at Halfords and WH Smiths among other outlets. Further details are available at www.haynes.co.uk

Haynes: Manuals have had a new lease of life.

Insignia gets ace Tourer

DESPITE the current economic malaise, Vauxhall's 2009 European Car of the Year has been a resounding success, bucking a downward sales trend with more than 15,000 orders taken in the first month of the car reaching dealer showrooms in the UK.

Enhancing the range still further on April 10 is the Sports Tourer model, the third significant body style in the Insignia's line-up and the first new model to be added since the car's launch.

Retaining the hatch and saloon's rakish silhouette, the Sports Tourer is available with class-leading innovation including FlexRide, Intelligent AFL and Adaptive 4x4, but with enhanced practicality, thanks to a 540-litre load area with the rear seats up. Dropping the 60:40 split rear seats converts the Sports Tourer into an even more capacious load-lugger, with a volume of up to 1,530 litres.

Coinciding with the Sports Tourer's launch is the introduction of the sixth engine to the Insignia range, the 174bhp 1.6 Turbo. Available on all front-wheel drive models, (apart from 'S' trim) the new turbocharged petrol engine emphasises Vauxhall's increasing commitment to smaller capacity, forced-induction units, which provide exceptional performance combined with reduced fuel consumption and CO2 emissions.

The 1.6 Turbo joins the 1.8, 2.0T and 2.8T V6 in the Insignia's petrol engine range, with the 2.0 CDTi 128bhp and 157bhp diesels also carrying across to the Sports Tourer. All engines meet the latest Euro 5 emissions standards.

Inevitably, with their highly competitive CO2 rating of 159g/km and low fuel consumption, the 2.0 CDTi 127bhp and 154bhp engines will continue to prove popular with private buyers and fleets alike. However, the new 1.6 Turbo engine will be a significant addition, appealing to those buyers who still prefer the outright performance of a petrol-fuelled car, but who are conscious of the emissions and fuel penalties this often brings.

GIVE YOUR CAR A WINTER WORKOUT WITH THE RMIF

The onset of winter can be bad news for motorists. Little light, bad weather and worse roads conspire to make driving tiring, unpleasant, and sometimes even dangerous.

Every journey is an opportunity to prevent the worst from happening, and there is a great deal of preventative action that you can undertake yourself.

Before setting off:
make sure that the car has enough fuel let someone know your intended movements listen to traffic news and weather forecasts, and wear warm clothing.

Naturally, the need for seasonal preparation also extends to the various systems that run the car, so make sure that the anti-freeze in the car is fresh. Insufficient or 'old' anti-freeze can cause hose, water pump or other major units to fail leading to overheating. Anti-freeze should be changed every two years due to the deterioration of the corrosion inhibitors, or according to manufacturer recommendations.

Other things to do include:
make sure the battery is in good condition on cold mornings use a de-icer on windows, or a scraper - NEVER hot water check that the screen wash is not clogged and that the bottle is topped up for use, and make sure that an additive is used to stop it freezing check windscreen wipers for wear and replace them if necessary make sure that all heaters and ventilation systems are working so that misting is minimised give all external lights and mirrors a thorough clean headlamps should be correctly aligned the tread depth should be at least 1.6mm across the central three-quarters of the breadth of the tread and around the entire circumference, and there should be no cuts or cracks spray damp inhibitor into the door locks to prevent seizing up.

Once the car is ready for winter, you should make sure it is carrying emergency equipment so that, if the worst happens, you are ready too.

Useful supplies could include: torch, spare batteries and bulbs, screen scraper / de-icer, jump leads, warning triangle, first-aid kit, 'hands free' mobile phone / phone card / cash, blankets and warm jacket / robust shoes (in case of breakdown), shovel (to clear snow if necessary), fire extinguisher, rope (for towing if necessary), road atlas, maps etc.

Essentially, safety in the winter comes down to four things: 1. Check your car. 2. Be prepared for anything. 3. Be cautious. 4. Monitor your speed.

If you try to follow these rules you should find yourself on the road to safe winter driving. To make sure your car is ready for the road in the first place, book your car in for a service. Careful preparation by the motorist can only go so far.

To find a reliable garage, motorists should look to the RMIF.

A member will be able to advise you on the type of service you need, and will be able to point out potential problem areas before they arise, or become serious. In fact, whether you want to buy or sell a new or used car or motorcycle, service or repair your existing vehicle, find an auction house, or a cherished number plate dealer, the RMIF will be able to help you.

If you have a complaint against an RMIF member garage, the RMIF's National Conciliation Service should be able to help you get redress, if the problem cannot be solved in direct consultation with that member.

To find a garage that is a member of the RMIF visit www.rmif.co.uk and use the 'Find a Service' function. You will also find details of RMIF members that sell new and used cars or motorcycles, provide vehicle servicing and repair, and sell petrol.

Motorists can also use the RMIF Consumer Motorline - 08457 58 53 50

This will enable you to find all RMIF members mentioned above, and in addition vehicle auctioneers and cherished number plate dealers.

Breaking up ain't hard to do

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF)

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility.

www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

End of the road? Get over it and move on with your local ATF.

FOOTBALL: COLTS AND MINI LEAGUE ROUND-UPS

It's a Lock out in clash of the day

Hundon Hawks 3
Mildenhall 3

Cambridge and District Colts League, Under-16B

HAWKS and leaders Mildenhall slugged out a thrilling draw to whet the appetite for the return match next month.

Hawks knew a win would put them in with a chance of the title but a feeling of deja vu settled over the camp when Mildenhall took the lead in the first minute – in the corresponding match last season the visitors went 2-0 up in the first 10 minutes and went on to win.

Keeper Simon Walters was injured in the build-up to the goal and his deputy, skipper Todd Martin, was picking the ball out of the net three minutes later.

However, Hawks battled back with goals from Lewis Brown and Ben Robinson, and although Mildenhall scored again, Tom Lock equalised.

Haverhill Rov 1
St Ives Rangers 0

Cambridge and District Colts League, Under-16C

ROVERS knew they had to keep the ball on the ground in the face of a strengthening wind if they were to get anything from the game.

However, they had to battle hard to break down St Ives 10 players, with Ashcroft side-footing the only goal from Rogers' long throw which was nodded on by Edwards.

Youngs on look-out for super 16s . . .

CP

SIMON Youngs is searching for 16 talented youngsters as Cambridge city prepare to launch their new under-16 side next season.

The Haverhill-based manager, who will be assisted by coach Dave Spencer, believes the future of the Milton Road club needs to be built on youth.

The team will compete in the Eastern Junior Alliance League, and trials will be held in May. Once selected, the 16-man squad will train twice a week.

Youngs said: "There's a massive amount of talent out there and we're looking for boys from Cambridge and within a half-an-hour radius. Some boys don't like going to academies at places such as Ipswich and Norwich because of the travelling, there are boys who've not been given a chance and there some in between. "I'm sure that within two or three years we'll have boys knocking on the door of the first team."

If you are currently in year 10 at school and want more information, contact Youngs at syoungs@gcfcg.com or phone 07858 767394

Bailey blast sparks rout

Grampian Gunners 8
Haverhill Rov 2

Cambs Mini League, Under-11A

BAILEY Cassidy blasted a hat-trick in the first 15 minutes to give

Grampian the ideal start to their derby match. And although Rovers pulled a goal back,

Ashley Wyatt restored the three-goal advantage before Mitchell Forshaw controlled a Rovers goal-kick on his chest and audaciously volleyed it straight back over the keeper's head to make it 5-1.

Rovers added a second goal but Toby Daly and Jamie Lingard were then unleashed and Lingard ran the length of the pitch and crossed for Jack Ferguson to slot home. Jason Moore set up Wyatt for his second and for man-of-the-match Cassidy to fire his fourth. West Watting 2

Linton Aztecs A 1

Cambs Mini League, Under-11A

WRATTING paid the price for a slow start when Aztecs took the lead after 15 minutes.

It was not until the second half that the home side made an impact, Jack Harvey finishing well.

But, as their confidence grew they started to get the upper hand and man-of-the-match Jake Murphy and Charlie Ellam combined to set up Charlie Ripp for the winner. Steeple Bumpstead 4

Grampian Gunners 2

Cambs Mini League, Under-10A

GUNNERS hit the bar and the post in the second half as they tried to get back on terms.

They missed a couple of decent chances before Westley gave them the lead which they held for 10 minutes. The home side led at half time but were saved by the woodwork before they made it 3-1. Thompson pulled a goal back for Gunners but Steeple Bumpstead made the game safe with their fourth.

CARTER THE UNSTOPPABLE GOAL MACHINE . . .

Alex storms to milestone

Teversham Colts 2
Haverhill Rovers 4

Cambridge and District Colts League, Under-11C

ALEX Carter bagged his 50th goal of the season as determined Rovers shrugged off deteriorating conditions to end leaders Teversham's unbeaten record.

The blustery wind, bobbly pitch and the home side's reputation for pressure football meant Rovers had to be at the top of their game.

They made the ideal start when Jack Trowbridge's superb volley put them ahead and the same player stretched the lead with another outstanding goal after a break from the halfway line.

Alex Carter added a third before the break, but things started to get tougher as Rovers turned round into an increasing wind.

However, Carter scored his milestone goal before Teversham got a foothold in the game with two goals in the last 15 minutes.

West Watting 15
KC Cougars 0

Cambridge and District Colts League, Under-12D

WRATTING dominated from start to finish but paid tribute to Cougars, who battled away on a hot day with just 11 players.

Bush, Lambert (3), Stevenson and Torode put them 6-0 ahead at the break and went to town in the second half with goals from Lambert (3), Cooper, Bailey (4), Massie and Bush.

Grampian Gunners 3

Huntingdon Rowdies 2

Cambridge and District Colts League, Under-15A

JACOB Brown struck twice and Luke Halls completed the scoring to give Gunners an impressive victory over second-placed Rowdies.

However, the winning margin should have been wider.

Grampian's excellent performance produced several good chances that went begging, but the points still took them up to third in the table.

Withersfield 8

Buckden Juniors 1

Cambridge and District Colts League, Under-12A

JOE Baker scored another hat-trick as Withersfield consolidated second place in the division.

The Buckden keeper was in outstanding form and, allied to the home strikers failing to get to grips with the offside rule, the scoreline remained in single figures.

Will Santry scored the pick of the goals – a delightful lob over the keeper – while Ryan Harrow continues to impress in his role of attacking defender.

Gunners blank in final

GRAMPIAN

Gunners under-14s (left) could not break Fulbourn Falcons' Cambridge and District Colts League Cup final stranglehold and had to settle for runners-up spot. The Cambridge side, who have not been beaten for seven years as they have charged through the age groups, won 2-0 to register their fourth successive cup final win. Both goals came in the second half. SPO542383

We want six of best!

A SIX-point haul from their next two games could give Haverhill Rovers the lift they need to start propelling themselves up the Ridgeons League, Premier Division table.

After witnessing his side secure two draws against leaders Lowestoft and Wisbech Town - a 0-0 draw on Saturday - boss Peter Betts is confident his side can turn their fortunes around and put pressure on their relegation rivals.

Fellow strugglers King's Lynn reserves come to Hamlet Croft on Saturday with Rovers then travelling to mid-table Stanway Rovers on Tuesday.

"If we can win our next two games the league table will look much better for us," said Betts. "Our next five games are

Rovers are set target by boss against teams quite close to us, so it would be nice to try to pick up some points.

"We've got games in hand on some of them."

Rovers' task to avoid the drop would be considerably less daunting had they taken more of the chances they created against both Lowestoft and Wisbech, and Betts admitted that more clinical finishing was the only thing missing from recent performances.

"We're playing quite well at the moment and could have had two wins in our last games," he said. "Confidence is quite high as well. The players feel there is nothing to lose now and have relaxed a bit more."

The decision to move Marcus Hunt into midfield also appears to have paid dividends with the defence conceding just one goal.

And the squad will be boosted further on Tuesday when striker Richard Hellern returns from university. He will be an ideal replacement for Neil Cogger, who is injured for the season, and the good news for Betts is he will be available for the rest of the relegation battle.

However, Joe Harvey is still out through injury and fitness doubts remain over James Walker, Dan Marshall and Craig Cutts.
